First of all, I'd like to officially welcome each and every one of you to the future. Your spirit of volunteerism is well appreciated.

Secondly, I'd like to extend special thanks to our in-house contributors for their generosity and time. They truly embody the values Thutothebe thrives on.

As of 22 Jan 2018, Thutothebe platforms will be officially launched. In preparation for this spectacular event, you are advised to print yourself a t-shirt to show your support (minor customizations of the original designs are allowed). Attached is a tentative handbook, accustom yourself to our ideology.

Most important of all, continue spreading the word about our launch!
